

Outside the Lines

is a summer arts camp for young women, ages 14-19.

We believe in the power of the arts to help young women realize their potential by facilitating self-expression, building confidence and developing creative thinking skills.

At Outside the Lines, our goal is to unleash creativity, explore issues that affect us all and share valuable life skills through extensive arts programming, mentoring relationships, and a unique communal living experience.

In a beautiful natural setting away from the stresses of home and city life, everyone is encouraged to take risks, discover new talents and develop leadership skills in a fun, safe environment.

Explore Your Creativity

Try acting, dancing, singing, painting, drawing, writing, and more.

Challenge Yourself

Climb on the high ropes course, volunteer on a farm working with animals, learn to be a leader and speak your mind.

Relax in Nature

Spend a day at the beach, hike through the woods and gaze at the stars by the campfire.

Summer 2011

Sunday, July 17th
to
Sunday, July 24th

Outside the Lines is held at Crieff Hills Community Retreat and Conference Centre, located just south of Guelph ON. Bus transportation is provided to the site from downtown Toronto.

The campers and staff share a comfortable retreat house in beautiful, pastoral grounds during their week-long stay.

Fees

Outside the Lines camp is financially accessible to all who wish to attend.

We ask sponsoring agencies (CAS, CCAS etc.) for a fee of $300. Applicants from the community are encouraged to pay-what-you-can.

Full bursaries are available to all who require them.
